What Is League Play and How it Works

The clubs are provided a packet with maps and hides. There is a 2 week period to complete 2 games. This happens three times for a total of six games over 6 weeks. A participants FIRST run on the course must be their run for the league. There shall be no practicing on a course before the official run. Dogs may enter additional runs on the same course but will only be ranked from their first run. Additional runs are marked FEO. Results are submitted to Rat Games where dogs are ranked among all of the clubs hosting leagues.

Game Descriptions (Page 8 of Rat Games Rule Book)

Heads or Tails* Work your dog at a distance with limited rats on course: two in the half you are on and two in the other half (distance challenge).

Distance* Another distance challenge similar to Heads or Tails except the entire course is behind a distance line.

Speed* Learn how to handle stress by focusing on finding each rat within 30 seconds or less and optionally, calling clear when your dog is complete.

Pairs Teamwork is beautiful thing to behold. Two people, two dogs and four minutes to find six rats.

Tunnels* Two minutes and lots of tunnels. Complete as many as you can but no points for repeating them.

Bet the Farm* A point game based on speed and similar to Mad Hatter with a twist! You don't know the number of rats on a course and you may call clear when course is clear of rats for a bonus.

Hurdlers Versatility plus! Hurdles, rats and recall, oh my!

Mad Hatter* Have we gone mad?! Ten rats on course every time is a doggie smorgasbord and total fun for the dog! Have fun and find rats!

Me First Dogs race head to head on their own mirror image courses. The first to call rat correctly wins.
